Hancock's "Praline Queen" accepts challenge to make candy for the nation

By CAROLE LANGE

When Mrs. Louise Tailliac signed "a bunch of papers" some 10 months ago, she quickly forgot about the incident until she received phone call last month and found that she had been selected to "cook pralines for the nation" this summer in Washington, D.C.

With the assistance of her daughter, Jackie Noto, Mrs. Tailliac will be preparing and sharing her Southern delicacies on a national scale when she participates in the American Folklife Festival sponsored by the Smithsonian Institute and the National Park Service during bicentennial observances in the capital June 30 - July 5.

Mrs. Tailliac admits that the honor is an "extra special" one for her "because I was the only one they chose from the South to cook pralines. They didn't even choose anyone from New Orleans," she said much to her amazement.

She said the nominating committee told her she was selected "because my pralines looked old-fashioned, tasted good, and weren't all the same size like those from a factory."

She said people connected with the Folklife Festival have been calling her several times weekly to verify ingredients and cooking equipment needed, and added that they were especially surprised that she didn't require huge baking ovens. "All I need is a two-burner stove and some pots

During her week's stay in Washington, Mrs. Tailliac will be cooking "around the clock," but she's used to that as she makes huge batches of pralines daily in the small kitchen at the rear of her gift shop on U.S. Highway 90.

A native of Hancock County, Mrs. Tailliac said she's been making candy since she was a child. "She comes from a family of cooks," according to her husband Roland.

Mrs. Tailliac said she learned her recipe for old-fashioned pralines from her grandmother. Since she's been making them, she's experimented with her own recipes "wasting sugar by the bagful" until she's perfected five additional flavors including chocolate, chewy, coconut, creamy, and divinity pralines.

In the candy selling and making business since 1930, the Tailliacs began their enterprise by selling pecans, shells, and pralines at stands on the highway. "We even had curb service," she said.

Mrs. Tailliac said they used to run a large mail-order business with customers as far away as Australia until postal rates increased to the point that it cost more to mail the pralines than to make them.

Her pralines are still mailed nationwide though, and Coast restaurateurs buy them by the dozens at retail prices.

Mrs. Tailliac said she could not estimate how many pralines she cooks per week, but could only "guesstimate" that it must be "literally hundreds."

She said she always takes a taste of the candy "after they've been dropped on the cooling paper" to see that they're right. And, of course, they always are. One of the disadvantages to being the "Praline Queen," as her customers call her, is that the tendency to taste the delicacies also leads to the tendency to add a few pounds for the tasting.

"Pralines are loaded with calories," Mrs. Tailliac said, "but maybe that's why they taste so good."

Her husband said he rarely eats them anymore and daughter Jackie admitted that she had developed a dislike for the taste of pecans, the main ingredient. "Anyway, just smelling them cooking makes you fat," she said.

Mrs. Tailliac said she has no idea how many pralines she will be serving up to tourists in Washington. But she is certain of one thing: "I know I won't have to put them in bags, that's the most tiresome part of the job."

She said the pralines will be put in paper cups that people can keep for souvenirs.

"It's a good thing, because after one bite of the confection, there won't be any left to take back home as samples."

Honorary citizen

Waveland Mayor Johnny Longo was one of the first to congratulate Mrs. Louise Tailliac on her selection as praline cook at this summer's American Folklife Festival in Washington, D.C. In honor of the occasion, Mrs. Tailliac, Bay St. Louis resident, was made an honorary citizen of the city of Waveland.

The last week end brought in what we all need for fresh water fishing; the tides were high in the mornings and low in the afternoons. The fish cooperated accordingly and were biting well, and naturally both bass and perch were caught. Pearl River is normal and the water improving. Pearl River and its tributaries are where the best fresh water fishing is found.

These tides also affect soft crabbing and floundering and those going after them report catching both. As for salt water fishing, they are being caught, too. Some are being caught out front, but the best are out in the marsh at such spots as Grand Pass, North Point, Mitchell Key, etc. Also at North and South Shores over in Louisiana and in Lake Pontchartrain.

Flounders are still being caught out front all along the sea shore from Cedar Point to Bayou Cadet. Some nice ones have been caught lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Foster returned to Memphis after spending two weeks at the Bay. Cliff did some fishing while here.

FLYING SCOT RACES - BWYC opened its regular season of Flying Scot races Sunday, May 9. The first race was a JUNIOR RACE which was won by ELIZABETH SANTA CRUZ with Edgar Santa Cruz and Corky Hadden crewing, followed by Dennis Stieffel with Amy Chapman and Janet Gordon crewing; Charlotte Gordon, with Ed Turnipseed and Katherine Boh crewing, and Bish Stieffel with Aaron Adams and Tony Fisher.

EXPERT RACE - First-ED TURNIPSEED, crew Amy Chapman and Mimi Eagan; Second-Mike Reeves, crew Edgar Santa Cruz and Rory McDowell. Third-John Heath with crew Corky Hadden and Charlotte Gordon. Fourth-Woody Santa Cruz, crew Eli-Heath Santa Cruz and Dennis Stieffel.

EXPERT RACE - First-ED TURNIPSEED, crew Janet Gordon and Amy Chapman; Second-John Christensen, crew Gordon Boh and Randy Santa Cruz; Third-Mike Reeves, crew Roy McDowell and Edgar Santa Cruz; Fourth-John Heath, crew Corky Hadden and Charlotte Gordon.

A-RACE - First-RANDY SANTA CRUZ, crew Dennis Stieffel and Katherine Boh; Second-Edgar Santa Cruz, crew Ed Turnipseed and Charlotte Gordon; Third-Gordon Boh, crew Rod Stieffel and Frank Allen; Fourth-Tracey Stieffel, crew Janet Gordon and Amy Chapman.

RACE COMMITTEE MEETING - There will be a race committee meeting Saturday, May 15, at 10 a.m. at the club.

BWYC SAILING LESSONS - Sailing instructors for the 1976 BWYC Sailing Lessons will be Ellen Eagan and Cindy Stieffel. There will be two five-week sessions consisting of two two-hour classes each week. Classes will begin June 8. Members and non-members are welcome and may take either one or both sessions. Lessons for BWYC members are $35 per session. The fee is $45 for non-members. There will be a discount of $10 if both sessions are taken. Further Dick Mestayer said he has been doing some fishing. Mostly for salt water fish. Dick also does fly fishing. Getting back in the swing he said.

M. J. Necease with the Mississippi Power Company said he has been doing some fishing with Arthur Miller. Claims they have been making some nice catches.

Was a pleasure meeting Ronnie Benardi who is the golf pro at Diamondhead. Ronnie is also a fisherman. Will have to make that trip, Ronnie, the best are out in the marsh at such spots as Grand Pass, North Point, Mitchell Key, etc. Also at North and South Shores over in Louisiana and in Lake Pontchartrain.

Flounders are still being caught out front all along the sea shore from Cedar Point to Bayou Cadet. Some nice ones have been caught lately.

Sheldon Seuzeneau and John Green are playing golf together. They make a good father and son-in-law combination. John said Sheldon is getting better all the time.

Reggie Fayard loves fly fishing. He is the young son of Eddie Fayard who used to make baits in Waveland. That explains everything when it comes to fishing. Reggie has been getting some nice trout and perch, from reports.

Nicky Rouxet was telling us of the nice base he has been catching. Nicky is a real hunter and fisherman, and is a past master at fly fishing. Even catches alligators by hand. He is a student from the Isaac Walton School of fishing techniques. Been knowing Nicky a long time.

Understand Allen Mestayer was home this weekend. Allen is one of our best young fisherman and hunters. Always ready to go. Will try anything. Just like his dad when it comes to enjoying the outdoors. How about that, Dick?

Peter Gillan is strictly a salt water fisherman. Can tell some nice stories of his experiences. Don't fish like he used to, however.

Individual efforts highlight Bay High track year

Bay High wound up its track season with several team and individual victories in conference, district and state competition.

The girls' team, coached by Willie Bradley, posted first place victories in team competition in District VIII, a second in Gulf Coast Conference, a fourth in South State and an eighth in State. New school records were established in both track and field events by the Tigerettes.

Lori Fairconnette set a new school record with a high jump of 4'10". Cynthia Jackson and Cleo Hawkins both ran the 75-yard dash in a time of 9.87 seconds for a new school record, and tied the school record of 11.3 sec. in the 100-yard dash.

In addition to these individual records, the relay team of Cynthia Jackson, Gloria Hargett, Cleo Hawkins and Lori Fairconnette set 49.5 seconds as the new 440-yard relay school record. The boys' team, coached by Gary Griffin, was not as successful due to the weakness of their distance team. They placed third in both conference and district state competition.

Discus thrower Jeffery Reed, a junior, took second in State with a throw of 132' 2". Discus thrower Jeffery Reed, a junior, took second in State with a throw of 132' 2".

Reed and long jumper Allison Favre enjoyed individual success and both advanced to State with a jump of 19' 11".

Finish best season

Tiger netters find success through practice and desire

This year's tennis squad at Bay High, coached by Florence Barcelona, finished season play with a record of nine wins, four losses, and one tie. This is the best win-loss record ever compiled by a Tiger squad.

The competition is extremely tough, more so than in other sports. Unlike other sports, tennis requires that small "A" classification schools like Bay High play against "AA" and Big 8 schools in both regular season play and district competition.

The nine team wins were over Coast Episcopal, Gulfport East, Ocean Springs (twice), St. John, Biloxi, St. Martin, Pass Christian, and Sacred Heart, with the one tie resulting with Notre Dame. The four losses were all to "AA" schools: Moss Point, St. Stanislaus, Pascagoula, and Long Beach.

Playing the number one singles position was senior Roderick Singleton. He finished his season with a win-loss record of 5-13. He reached the quarter-finals of the District 8 A-AA Tournament, where he was defeated by the number one player. He was Gulf Coast Conference runner-up.

Senior Noella Williams played the top girls' slot this year. Williams' over-all record of 12 wins and 8 losses and good tournament play earned her the "Outstanding Singles Player" Trophy presented at the Bay High Athletic Banquet. Williams finished third in the Gulf Coast Conference Tournament. She was the District 8 A-AA runner-up, which earned her a spot in the state tournament in Jackson. There she reached the quarter-finals by handily defeating Oxford in the first round of play.

Boys' singles - Roderick Singleton

Girls' singles - Noella Williams

Sophomores Chuck Newland and Frank Henry represented Bay High as this year's boys' doubles team. They finished with a winning record of 10-8 which is a very good first year tennis record. They reached the quarter-finals of the Coast Invitational Tournament. The Newland-Henry team was runner-up in the Gulf Coast Conference, narrowly losing to Long Beach in the finals.

Seniors Sharon Arnold and Lucinda Kidd finished season play with a winning 10-7 record. Arnold and Kidd proved they were winning Sacred Heart, this year's state runner-up. Arnold and Kidd reached the quarter-finals of the Coast Invitational Tournament as well as District 8 A-AA Tournament. They were also runner-up in the Gulf Coast Conference.

Bay High's mixed doubles team of seniors Keith Folsom and Donna Sick finished their season with an 11-5 record, the best individual record this year.

Of their five losses, two were after splitting sets, two used tie-breakers, and the other was a 6-4, 6-2 loss to Pascagoula.

The Folsom-Sick team reached the semi-finals of the Coast Invitational Tournament, the quarter-finals of the District 8 A-AA Tournament, and was runner-up in the Gulf Coast Conference. Because of their winning record and good tournament play, Folsom and Sick were presented the "Outstanding Doubles Team" trophies at Bay High's Athletic Banquet.

The Tiger B-squad was just as successful as the varsity.

Playing the boys' singles spot was Charles Damiens, while Charlene Haynes played girls' singles. Playing boys' doubles were Paul Rannik and senior Louis Turnipseed while Steve Taylor and Tracey Steffel played mixed doubles. The girls' doubles team of Celeste Lizzana and senior Donna Ralph had the best win-loss record (9-2) of the B-team.

Bay High will be losing eight players through graduation, six of these varsity members.

Coach Barcelona attributed the team's success to the dedication and hard work, both as individuals and as a team. The team's success was more noteworthy in light of the fact that no player had more than two years experience, Barcelona said.

Harrison-Hancock Little League releases '76 schedule of play

The Harrison-Hancock fields being used include Dedeaux Field, located at the Old Dedeaux School 10 miles north of DeLisle; the Dubuisson Field, located at the west Harrison County Jaycee ball field behind St.

Ann Catholic Church five miles north of DeLisle; and the Kiln Field located behind the Kiln Annunciation School, one mile off Highway 603.

Seventeen teams will participate in the league playthis year.

The League plans to hold a Little League queen contest June 18, with contestants vying to raise the most money through ticket sales.

Dramatists conclude season with three one-act plays

Bay Senior High School one-act plays Wednesday to dramatists presented three conclude their 1975-76 season.

Involved in their first production, an affair concerning a Wild West sheriff and his new wife, The Bride Comes to Yellow Sky, were Steve Wheat, David Landon, Donna Ralph, Ronald Hall, and Tracy Klein.

Trifles, was the name of the second play. Here murder was investigated—with some odd results. Cast members for this production were: Paul Craig, Chris Johnson, Charles Ainsworth, Sarah Seals, and Cindy Fontenot.

The final production was, When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet. This comedy developed when Juliette was given pointers on her romance with Romeo by the main female characters of Shakespeare's other plays. It turned out that
